Liability

The European Cement Research Academy (ECRA) takes great care to compile research results for its members. These results are nevertheless only intended to provide general information and cannot replace individual advice to aid members of the Academy or participants of events such as workshops or seminars in making decisions. Under no circumstances shall the European Cement Research Academy be liable for any direct, special, indirect or consequential damages, even if the Academy has been advised about the possibility of such damages. This limitation of liability does not apply in the case of intentional breach of duty, or in the case of gross negligent breach of duty, or in the case of damages to any person injured or fatally injured from intentional or negligent acts by the Academy or its employees.

Any agreement or contract with ECRA shall be governed by German law.
